Preface

The crisis management Emergency Handbook was prepared by the Psychological/Social/Diagnostic Services Department’s crisis team and the departmental Advisory Board’s suicide and crisis management committee. The information in this booklet has been modified and adjusted to complement the needs of an emergent situation for Texas College. The information has been approved for use by the Psychological/Social/Diagnostic Services department’s crisis team and the departmental Advisory Board’s suicide and crisis management committee. It is intended to be used by administrators for quick reference to procedures that enhance responses to any one of a wide range of possible situations affecting educational institutions.

Representing the Tyler mental health community, the Advisory Board committee members have donated hours of expert consultation in the development of step-by-step suggestions for the management of specific crisis situations. Having assisted individuals recovering from major crises, these professionals understand the importance of prompt crisis management in the college environment. Texas College is grateful for their contribution.

The contents of this manual are not intended to create any contractual or other legal rights and are designed solely to be used as a guide for faculty, staff and students of Texas College.

Assault of a Student on Campus

Assisting the Victim

4. President or his designee will notify victim’s parents.
5. Notify Administration.

If the Assault is a Rape

1. Contact the police (911), security (903) 593-8311 ext. 2249. Assign someone to meet emergency personnel at the door.

The services of the Rape Crisis Center will be offered at this time.
*A student and staff meeting may need to be scheduled if concern is widespread and cannot be resolved in individual exchanges.

2. Notify Security, which will contact the police if necessary. (903) 593-8311 ext. 2249.

3. Inspect the building.

4. Notify the appropriate supervisor when a final check of the building has been completed.

COMMENTS ON BOMB THREAT:
All threats do not warrant calling the police. Unnecessary publicity, in fact, may encourage other incidents. Evaluate the threat. On the basis of evidence, experience and judgment, decide whether the threat is credible.

Evidence
- Signs of illegal entry
- Report of missing chemicals

Experience
- Other threats have been hoaxes
- Tests are scheduled for that day
- Caller was obviously a youngster; giggling in background
- Unexplained individuals unrest

Judgment
- Based on all available information, the threat is or is not credible

Note: Dismissal or fire drill procedures are not standard practice for all bomb threats.
Bomb Threat

Bomb Found

1. Call Security, which will notify the bomb squad. (903) 593-8311 ext. 2249. Assign someone to meet emergency personnel at the door.

2. Isolate the area.

3. If the fire alarm is used for evacuation, notify the fire department that alarm was used because a bomb was located.

5. Notify the Administration.

6. Re-enter the building only after being advised to do so by the police.

7. Prepare a statement for the media.

8. Provide a fact sheet to help the school administration and others in answering the questions of concerned parents, including location of evacuated students. Have interpreters available.

COMMENTS:

Community or Political Protest Activity - Riot (level III)

Suggested Steps

1. Identify the group and the purpose of the protest.

13. Keep Administration informed.

14. Alert local crisis team members to assume their responsibilities. Request assistance from psychosocial services crisis team.

16. Once order has been restored, remain alert for further campus disruptions. Ask student leaders for input regarding controversial issues. Ask for community involvement in resolution of concerns leading to the riot.

17. Log all activities and decisions.

COMMENTS:
* The final decision for determining the nature of the assistance needed is the responsibility of the administrator in charge. (The President)
 “Students will not be permitted to incite, encourage, promote or participate in a riot, sit-in, walk-out, blockage of entrances, or trespass or otherwise substantially or materially interfere with the normal educational process while at the college or at college-sponsored activities. Any student who wishes to promote, organize, or participate in a demonstration on the premises, other than those sponsored by the college must obtain the prior approval of the appropriate officials.” A suggested alternative would be to allow students the opportunity to voice opinions or dissent where they can be heard and appropriately responded to by administrators inside the building. While most protest activities are appropriate to classify as a Level I crisis that can be managed with the resources at hand, there is potential for them to escalate into a more serious situation and require additional action by the local crisis team, psychosocial services crisis team, central administration and/or local law enforcement.

   c. Respect any cultural differences and a preference for privacy by some students or parents.

COMMENTS:
* Use this situation to educate the students about the facts and the disease. If there is a rumor, the situation calls for education about the meaning and dangers of rumors.
 Students with a reportable disease may be excluded from attendance until:
   1. A physical attests to their recovery.
   2. The local health authority gives permission, or
   3. The appropriate time elapses and they are no longer contagious.

Suggested Steps

1. Alert Security to stand by. (903) 593-8311 ext. 2249.

2. Check identification if possible. Determine whether the person has a legitimate reason to be on campus. As precaution, have backup for support.

3. If person cannot give identification or legitimate reason for being on campus, notify security or police immediately. Ask person to leave or, if necessary, have person removed.*

4. If the person is identified as a person with a legitimate reason to be there, utilize a combination of extreme politeness, courtesy and firmness to structure and de-escalate the behavior. If the person is coherent, listen to him/her and try to understand his concerns. Do not permit classroom to be disrupted.

5. If the situation was witnessed by students or staff, inform them of the facts once the situation is resolved.

6. Log all decisions and activities.

Further, the President will determine an alternative site away from the campus, need be. Personnel are to obtain information from the local radio stations, television stations and Campus Security & Safety Department for further instructions.

Campus buildings will be under the direction of Texas College Security and Safety Department after hours or when not occupied.

Civil Defense and Disaster Preparedness Offer the Following Safety Rules:

1. Don’t attempt to leave the building. You are much safer in a steel framed or reinforced concrete building that you are on the street or in your car.
2. The entire fronts of most lobbies are usually glass.
3. You can be safe on your floor. Stay in an interior hallway.
4. Don’t get excited. Remain calm; excitement causes many problems. The radio and TV keep you posted on any further instructions.

Tornadoes seldom let down in areas of high rise buildings; however, they are unpredictable, and this bulletin has been prepared to take all precautions for your safety. The greatest danger is from flying glass and possibly some furniture being tossed around, if a tornado hits directly.
